Red Cross Won't Accept Congress 25-Million Grant

Blames Proposal in Senate For Not Raising $10,000,000

Robinson Says Congress Likely to Set Up Own Agency

ATTACKS PRESIDENT

Senator McKellar Voices Approval of Robinson's Attitude

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Testifying before the House of Appropriations Committee, Chairman Payne of the Red Cross, Wednesday blamed the Senate proposal for $25,000,000 Red Cross relief fund for failure of his organization to raise $10,000,000 through private contributions in less than two weeks.

Payne said that the central committee of the Red Cross had adopted a resolution accepting administration of funds for general relief as provided in the Senate proposal.

Responding to Chairman Payne's statement that the Red Cross will not accept government funds, Democratic leader Robinson told the Senate Wednesday that Congress will set up its own agencies for the distribution of relief funds and threatened an extra session to get relief measures passed.

He attacked President Hoover's attitude toward relief vigorously and was seconded by Senator McKellar of Tennessee, who urged blocking of appropriations unless relief is given.

1082 Pounds of Human Flesh Stage Big Party

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—(AP)—Miss Alpine Blich and "Wee" Willie London had a "Big" time together here recently.

Miss Blich, a Florida lass, weighs 732 pounds and London carries about with him only 350 pounds of flesh. London hails from High Point, N. C., and is reputed to be the biggest man in "seven counties" while at home.

Willie pulled a fast one on the editor of his home town paper, who said that Willie had "dated" the little girl from Florida. The first thing London did when he arrived here was to locate Miss Blich and arrange a party for two. Then followed a series of dates before they packed up and left town.

Both took thermal baths to reduce their weight.

Industrial and mercantile establishments are being requested to place the call before their managers and employees, with an appeal for a gift from every individual, no matter how small.

"Lindy's" First Teacher Plans to Quit Flying

LINCOLN, Neb.—(AP)—He gave Charles A. Lindbergh his first flying lesson. He's taught dozens of youngsters how to handle the controls. He's been an air mail pilot.

But I. O. Biffle, who nine years ago introduced the world's most famous aviator to flying, is going to quit the "air" for good.

"From now on, my flying is only going to be taken for the fun of it," Lindy's first tutor says. "I'm going into business so I can get a little saved up for 'after years'."

It was in 1922, while in the employ of the Nebraska Aircraft Co., here, that Biffle taught Lindbergh the rudiments of flying.

Lindbergh received his first flying instruction in Lincoln.

Garland Bombing Arrests Increase

From 10 to 15 Reported Held; Mystery Surrounds Names of Suspects

From 10 to 15 men are under arrest for the dynamiting of the Garland City toll bridge, as a result of a secret dragnet swept over the southwestern counties in recent months by special operatives of the State Highway Department and the prosecuting attorney's office, according to rumors current here Wednesday.

Prosecuting Attorney Millard Alford, holding court at Arkadelphia, has refused to confirm press reports as to where the arrested men are being held; and none of the authorities have published their names or specific charges against them.

A dispatch from Texarkana Wednesday morning said five arrests in the case were known to authorities in that city, but that none of the prisoners are believed for the moment to be in the state penitentiary or the Little Rock city jail.

Lightning Bolt Is Measured in State

Stroke Is Caught on Line Between Camden and Magnolia

NEW YORK.—(AP)—The most powerful stroke of lightning ever measured by man would run New York City's power lines only a half a second.

This stroke of five million volts was caught on an Arkansas line between Camden and Magnolia and the measurement in watts and amperes reported Wednesday to the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

The bolt was trapped with a photographic apparatus by Julius Foss of the Westinghouse company and Ralph E. Pittman of the Arkansas Power & Light company.

This bolt equaled about fifteen million watts.

Omaha Pastor Scores Educational Plan

OMAHA.—(AP)—The "coffee-milk" plan of education which Dr. Frederick W. Clayton, rector of All Saint Episcopal church, charges is being used by Columbia University, was scored in a recent talk before Omaha Parent-Teacher Association members.

"Today in this country we follow the educational system of Columbia, the coffee-milk of education," he said. "Today education has become an incultation, and many persons get just enough to be inoculated against education for the rest of their lives."

County Judge Bill Would Raise Gas Tax From 5 to 7c

Local Road Program Starts Another Fight in Legislature Wednesday

ACT FOR BACK TAX Bill to Abolish Corporate Measure Is Passed By Senate

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Two measures to increase the gasoline tax were introduced in the Senate Wednesday, while the house fought over legalizing the employment of its 75 helpers.

Senator George's bill, sponsored by Arkansas County Judges association, would increase the gasoline tax from five to seven cents while another by Senator Caldwell would increase the tax to six cents.

Under the latter the revenue would go to payment of road improvement district bonds and construction of county post roads, while in Senator George's bill, the proceeds would be refunded to counties for an additional two cent tax on a basis of one-third for population, one-third for area and one-third for automobile licenses sold.

Back Tax Law Passes

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—A proposed act of the legislature equivalent to the proposed constitutional amendment which the voters defeated last fall, to abolish back-tax suits, was passed overwhelmingly by the Arkansas senate late Tuesday.

The vote for passage, 24 to 8, was over the protest of Senator Atkins, who said he had been in several legislative fights over the same measure, declared "it's the same old crowd coming back—the same bunch who fought the income tax in 1929. If corporations cannot come into Arkansas and pay their just taxes, then we don't want them."

"The fact that the people refused to repeal this law last November," Senator Abington shouted, "is good enough reason for me opposing Senator Chancy's bill."

Says Revenue Would Drop

He said revenue would drop off if the law was repealed, and special interests "all the money in the country."

"I'm accused of saying during the 1929 legislature, 'To hell with the constitution,' but I want to tell you, we've had no constitution for 29 years," Senator Abington continued.

"Andrew Mellon and his crowd have all the money now, and it is just the same such bills as this. We owe it as our duty to curb this business."

Senator Caldwell closed the argument for the bill, contending corporations had paid their just taxes in past years, and asserting "if every individual was required to take his own books before the taxing authorities just as the corporations are, we would have no trouble in getting plenty of tax money."

Two Measures by Cannon

Carlisle Cannon, Hempstead county representative, introduced two measures in the house Tuesday. One was an amendment to the administration's highway bill, which would make district roads bonds a direct obligation of the state. The bill and the amendment were both referred to the house committee on roads and highways.

The other measure from the Hempstead county representative was a resolution authorizing appointment of a committee to investigate the Arkansas medical school, to refute "defamatory and unfair newspaper articles, based upon the adverse findings of the survey commission of the United States office of education." Speaker Neale appointed a committee of Cannon and four other members to conduct the investigation.

Hunger Halts Father's Search For Work

PEABODY, Mass.—(AP)—William H. Anderson, father of seven small children, found he got too hungry looking for work, so he has arranged for a job to come look for him.

Anderson, who has been out of work for several months, erected a sign bearing the following inscription, on a road leading to his home in South Peabody:

"Wanted—Information leading to the capture of a job by the father of seven."

Williams said he often walked to this city a distance of three miles, seeking employment, and that when he returned after a fruitless search "I was so hungry that it took all of the food in the house to feed me."

Farmer Wants to Swap Cows for New License

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—(AP)—Secretary of State Charles U. Becker has received concrete evidence that times are hard in the drouth area of Southwest Missouri.

Jury at DeWitt Recommends 3 Years Term for Chester Holbert

DE WITT.—(AP)—A circuit court jury Tuesday convicted Chester Holbert, 19, of manslaughter, and recommended three years imprisonment for the slaying last December of Joe Rousseau, caretaker of the Pecan Lake Hunting Club near here.

Holbert, who contended he shot the caretaker in self-defense, was charged with first degree murder, but this was reduced by the jury which liberated three hours.

The state, asking for the death penalty, charged that Rousseau, who was a well known Pine Bluff sportsman, was killed as he was stalking poachers on the hunting club preserve. Holbert, state's attorneys charged, had been chased from the preserves several times and killed Rousseau for ordering him from the grounds.

Holbert contended he shot the caretaker as the latter threatened him while they were sitting on a log.

Missing Rancher Being Hunted by Texas Posse

RAINGER, Texas.—(AP)—Hampered by a steady rainfall that banished all possibility of finding footprints, a growing posse Tuesday searched hopelessly throughout the rough and barren region 12 miles southeast of here where Wes Marshbanks, Ranger rancher, was last seen Sunday before mysteriously disappearing.

Footprints believed to be the rancher's were discovered near an abandoned ranch house, but they faded away and were lost after about 40 men followed them away from the house for about a mile and a half.

Message in Code Baffles Experts

Copper Plate Found in Cave Rivited to Rock

LOCUST GROVE, Ark.—(AP)—A copper plate, inscribed with a strange code message, is puzzling archeologists in the Ozarks.

The copper plate, eight inches long and five inches high, was found rivited to a rock in a cave near here. Walter Curtis, a farmer, found it when he followed his dog into the cave, when the dog went in after the rabbit.

On the plate are figures resembling arabic letters, crudely drawn, some that look like Roman numerals and several arrows and other characters. So far attempts to decipher the inscription have been fruitless. All the arrows point in the same direction, leading to a belief the message gives directions for reaching something or other.

Since the copper has corroded until many of the characters are barely discernable, those who have seen the plate believe it is several centuries old.

The plate was sent to the Smithsonian Institution, but experts there could not explain it, saying they believed it was either a code message or a clever fake.

New Tourist Record in December for Cuba

HAVANA.—(AP)—In the face of the widely advertised, if somewhat mythical "revolution" in Cuba, a new record for tourist arrivals was made in December, according to the Customs Department.

In that 30-day period 15,161 visitors cleared through the port of Havana. This is 2,356 more than for the corresponding period in 1929, when 12,805 visitors were cleared.

The record is of more than passing significance in view of the political difficulties in Cuba and the current would depression.

Immediate Bonus Payments Favored

Paul C. Wolman Sees Veteran's Relief as Tonic for Economic Ills

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Cash for veterans bonus certificates was proposed to a Senate committee Tuesday as a tonic for the ills of business depression.

Paul C. Wolman of Baltimore, commander in chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, told the Senate Finance Committee that the certificates given World War Veterans should be cashed. He added they would "not only be a distinct aid to the welfare of the disabled and needy ex-service men, but also act as a marvelous stimulant to existing economic conditions."

Veterans Administrator Hines appearing before the committee for the second day, testified, however, that some of the measures now before Congress looking to the cash redemption of the certificate would take so long to administer they would do no good toward relieving present distress.

Hines said the quickest measure to carry out would be one calling for cash redemption of the certificates on their face value as of 1945. He testified this would also be the most expensive and would cost the government $3,400,000,000.

Several bills providing for this procedure are pending in both Houses. Cash redemption under this plan would take about a year to complete but could begin at once, Hines said.

John P. Vesey smashed his way through to a majority victory over four other candidates for mayor in the Hope city preferential primary election Tuesday, making the first primary apparently final so far as the executive office is concerned.

The total city vote, ranging from 95 to 1,900, in the various offices, was the largest in the history of Hope. It was Hope's first election as a city of the first class.

Mr. Vesey carried every ward by a long lead, and clinched the election by sweeping Ward One with a clear majority.

He obtained a majority in the city of 13 votes, polling 474 out of a total of 955 cast for mayor.

Mayor Ruff Boyett, the city's veteran executive, went down to defeat with a total vote of 204. Mr. Vesey is himself a former mayor of Hope, serving from 1920 to 1924, and being succeeded the latter year by Mr. Boyett. The other three candidates received only a scattering vote.

Louis XV Commission Old Northwestern Relic

GREEN BAY, Wis.—(AP)—The second oldest known relic of the Northwestern Territory is in possession of Misses Sarah and Deborah Martin here.

It is a commission signed by Louis XV of France, making Charles de Langlade, early resident of this city, a lieutenant in the royal forces. Collectors' offers of $1,000 for the parchment have been refused.

It is written in French, and is still legible. Dated at Versailles, Feb. 1, 1760, and signed "Louis."

The commission recently was loaned to the Neville museum here, to accompany the Northwest's oldest relic, a silver ostensorium, presented by Nicholas Perrot to the Mission of St. Francis Xavier, at De Pere, in 1688.

Canadian Magistrate Urges Whipping Post

ORILLIA, Ont.—(AP)—Magistrate Daniel McCaughin believes establishment of the whipping post is the cure for the present wave of petty crime in Orillia. The magistrate argues that "four is the great deterrent to crime, and four must be held sternly over the heads of criminals."

Magistrate McCaughin advocates hanging for bank robbers and persons who attempt or accomplish robbery while armed.

The whipping post, would be an accessory to the lash, which is imposed throughout Canada on criminals convicted of major crimes.

Final Canvas on Friday May Have Effect on Result

City Turns Out Tuesday for Largest Vote in History—Nearly 1,000

HARPER, TREASURER Is Re-Elected By Narrow Margin of 18 Votes Over Dale Jones

The New Lineup
Results of the preferential primary election Tuesday apparently show the following lineup in the city government contest:

Mayor: John P. Vesey
Police Judge: U. A. Gentry or S. F. Huntley
City Treasurer: J. W. Harper.

Ward One: Dr. Don Smith; and R. L. Gosnell or John W. Dawson
Ward Two: (Two of the following four men) Roy Stephenson; Luther Garner, Frank Ward, Luther Rodgers
Ward Three: Theo P. Witt and Roy Johnson
Ward Four: Ira Halliburton and Charles E. Taylor.

There still remain to be counted about 45 absentee votes, which will probably be canvassed by the city central committee Friday. Although a change in the present results is possible, with a total of 29 candidates for the absentee vote to be distributed among it is regarded as unlikely that the major offices will be affected.

The only two-man race in the election—for city treasurer—developed into an extremely close contest between Treasurer J. W. Harper, running for re-election, and Dale Jones, his young challenger, by the city official complete tabulation, excluding the absentee vote, Mr. Harper had 472 to Mr. Jones' 454—a lead of 18 votes, which apparently shows Mr. Harper re-elected.

With both the mayor's and treasurer's offices apparently removed from the run-off, the second primary in March will be fought out for the office of police judge, and for three of the seven aldermanic seats.

For police judge, U. A. Gentry, former state senator and city attorney, obtained a plurality of 17 over his nearest opponent, but failed to win a majority. Mr. Gentry's vote was 411, while S. F. Huntley, justice of the peace for DeRosa township, polled 334; and Pat Casey, former deputy prosecuting attorney, got 192. Mr. Gentry and Mr. Huntley will face each other in the run-off.

The aldermanic contests in Ward Three and Ward Four were settled in the first election, since there were only four candidates for the two offices in each ward. Theo P. Witt, with 605 votes, and Roy Johnson, with 422, were elected in Ward Three. In Ward Four, Ira Halliburton with 609 votes, and Charles E. Taylor, with 573, were successful.

Dr. Don Smith, in Ward One, obtained a clear majority for one of the two aldermanic seats in that ward, polling a total of 493 votes. The other seat in Ward One will be fought out in the run-off by the next two highest men, R. L. Gosnell with 330 votes, and John W. Dawson, with 240.

In Ward Two none of the candidates for alderman received a clear majority, and the four high men out of the five candidates will enter the run-off. These four are: Roy Stephenson, 435 votes; Luther Garner, 423; Frank Ward 423; Luther Rodgers 291.

To Keep the Record Straight

IN an editorial Monday the Arkansas Democrat quoted a special dispatch from Hope saying that the members of the Hempstead County Drouth Relief organization "found that a county agent must be hired immediately if this district is to get its share of the $45,000,000 federal crop loans to be issued this spring."

The Democrat then says:
"Just why a county must have a county agent before its farmers can get loans from the government is not explained.
Certainly, every county should have a county agent, if one is needed, but so far as we know there are no such strings as appointment of an agent, attached to securing a loan from the federal government."

No one connected with The Star filed the dispatch quoted by the Democrat. It appears to be a condensed version of various news stories published in our paper—except that the Democrat fails to make the distinction we have tried to observe, namely, that the issue is not whether we shall get any federal relief, but whether we will get all we are entitled to.

This is a big county, and it will get a certain amount of the federal loan money whether it has any county agents or not. But to say that the federal government, which pays a quarter of the salary of the county agents and which has had to deal with private business houses in this city the last two years because of the refusal of the county political government to carry its end of the deal—to say that this ancient history is going to be overlooked without some concession from the county government, is to state a supposition and not a fact.

So far as Hempstead county is concerned, the county agents have been hopelessly involved in local politics, and no one seems to have the courage or desire to put them on the non-partisan plane of public school-teachers, where they really belong.

Everyone knows that most of the offices under a county government are political jobs—but we are gradually convincing ourselves of being unable to appropriate money for any purpose other than a political purpose.

There is no future, either in good government or public prosperity, for a county that perpetually pursues such a policy.

The Star means to keep the county agent issue alive in Hempstead, if for no other reason than to remind our officeholders that when the state and federal governments have appropriated money to carry half of a program it is up to the local government to carry the other half—or convince the people every two years there is some good reason why we can't.

Making The Job Steady

THERE was something both refreshing and thought-provoking, in this day of unemployment and bread lines, in the radio talk recently given by William Cooper Proctor under the auspices of the president's Emergency Committee for Employment, outlining the guaranteed-employment plan of the Proctor & Gamble Co.

Under this plan the company guarantees to its employees 48 weeks of work every year. The plan has been in operation for seven years, and according to Mr. Proctor has worked extremely well.

This first step, as Mr. Proctor points out, was to estimate the average yearly consumption of the company's products, so that the company could forecast its business for as long a period as possible. Then sales and deliveries were regulated so that a regular rate of production could be maintained.

In this way the company avoided those fitful spurts of frantic production alternating with periods of stagnation—the system that is the common curse of a great part of American industry, and which is in a large measure responsible for the present depression.

"We are asked," remarked Mr. Proctor, "to what extent guaranteed employment is applicable to other industries. Of course, I know that the Proctor & Gamble plan cannot be applied to all industries, but I think it can be applied to many corporations to as great or greater extent than we cover our employees, and about 90 per cent of our people come under the guarantee."

"I know of a number of corporations where they have continuous employment. They undoubtedly could apply the guarantee, and in my opinion would profit greatly by so doing, as well as give their employees a sense of economic security, which tends to make for better service."

And he adds:

"I think that most industries are capable of much greater regularity of operation with the consequent regularity of employment. I think the reason that they are not so operating is largely because no sustained and determined effort has been made to so organize industry and the individual corporations in all their departments—research, advertising, selling, production, warehousing and distribution—with the definite objective of securing regularity of production and employment."

Would that Mr. Proctor's remarks could be read by every individualist in the land!

Daily WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The group of 13 Republican senators who joined the Democrats in defying President Hoover when they voted to reconsider confirmation of the three federal power commissioners who had fired Solicitor Russell and Chief Accountant King, is most conspicuously characterized by the fact that its members vote as they please, without regard to the wishes of the administration. All of them come from the west.

What causes progressive senators and why do they all come from the west and why doesn't the east produce any and why are they all so interested in the power issue when most of the electricity is consumed in the larger eastern states?
Year correspondent referred all this to Uncle George Norris, the Nebraska senator who has been so progressive and so insistent that some of the regular Republican leaders have spent time and money trying to get him out of public life.

Vote Him Out Convictions
"In the west," says he, "the people are progressive and independent. These 13 Republicans represent the kind of people who believe they ought to vote their own convictions. Most of us have seen our opponents campaign and lose on the contention that we ought to vote the way the president wanted us to vote."

"Most of the money of the country is in the east and Republican politics in that section, generally, is dominated by big business, which opposes anybody who would interfere with the activities of the power trust. All big business stands together and the power trust is more powerful than any other part of it.
"I'm inclined to believe that the rank and file of eastern people are progressive, but control of the Republican party there is in the hands of big business and the power trust. I believe that progressives can be elected in the east, but we haven't had first-rate, outstanding men who would come out and try to lick the machines. How could it be done? Well, I think what I did in Nebraska could be done in the east. Just step out and tell the political machine to go to hell and then go out and take the fight to the people in the open."

Ice Floes in River Halt Iowan's Trip

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb. —(U.P.)—
When a man brings a boat 150 miles down a river instead of letting the boat bring him, it is at least unusual. A. W. Wright, Sioux City, recently gave up the battle after conveying his canvas-topped boat to this port. He intended to paddle downstream to an Arkansas town. Ice floes changed his mind.

He murmured: "Oh, Pardon Me"

...a hundred times a day...

A HUNDRED times a day he suffered the agonies of embarrassment as his conversation was interrupted by "Pardon Me's," as he turned away to stifle gas. It had been that way for years. No matter what he ate, it caused gas and discomfort. His stomach constantly caused him pain. He could hardly bear the idea of food. He was irritable and nervous—couldn't sleep. A friend suggested Tanlac. He tried it. In a few days the gaseous condition left him. His appetite returned. He began to feel loads better in every way. He slept like a boy.

Stomach gas is not only painful as well as embarrassing but it may be the warning of dangerous stomach troubles. Get rid of it—straighten out the condition that causes it with Tanlac. Few preparations have Tanlac's wonderful record of success in quickly relieving gas discomfort and stomach distress. It has helped thousands and it must help you, too, or your druggist will return your money.

Barcelona Seeks 1936 Olympic Games

BARCELONA, (U.P.)—A definite drive to have Barcelona named as the site for the Olympic games of 1936 is under way here.

The fame of the great Montjuich Stadium, well known since its construction for the Barcelona International Exposition (1929-1930) has now spread everywhere, and it is generally conceded that it is entirely adequate for staging Olympic games.

Water sports may be staged either in the Mediterranean, or in indoor swimming pools, while the city and surrounding mountains offer the choice of many routes for long bicycle, motorcycle, automobile races or the running of marathons and other races.

April 8, Bradley Polytechnic Institute at Peoria, Ill.; April 9, Washington University at St. Louis; April 10 and 11, Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tenn.; April 13 and 14, University of Kentucky at Lexington; April 15, University of Notre Dame at Madison; April 16, Western State Teachers College at Kalamazoo, Mich.; April 18, Bradley Polytechnic Institute at Madison.

7th Commissioner Attacks Dry Law

Kenneth Mackintosh, Seattle, Says "Conditions Unbelievable"

SEATTLE, Wash.—(AP)—Kenneth Mackintosh, a member of the Wickersham commission, said upon his return here Monday seven members of the law enforcement body favored a change in prohibition as soon as possible. He did not name the seven.

Mackintosh said the "four other members having still a hope which they designate as a pious one, that a change in organization may bring a reasonable degree of enforcement, nevertheless favor revision of that hope is not fulfilled."

The Seattle member said the commission's report gave full value to all the good resulting from prohibition, but was more than conservative in reporting the bad features so as to avoid attack on the ground that we deliberately exaggerated conditions.

"We found conditions almost unbelievable," Mackintosh said. "There is unquestionably more drinking among young people than before prohibition. Prohibition has raised the drinker from the gutter and put him in a good society."

Although in his individual report Mackintosh recommended a change in the dry law if further enforcement efforts are not productive, he said he had since taken the stand the law could not be enforced and that change should be made now.

The Seattle member said if the 18th amendment or prohibition instead of outright prohibition of beverage liquor, the problem would be solved.

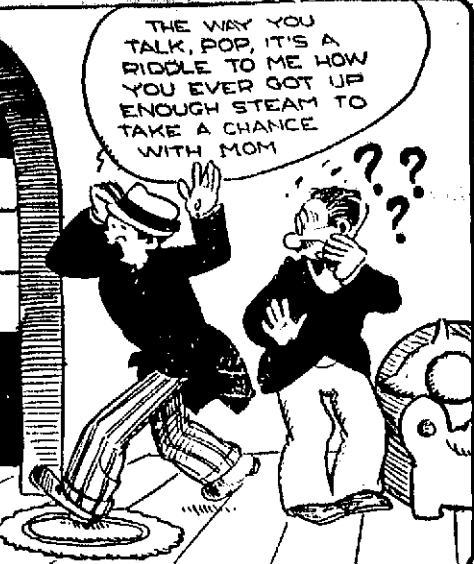

7th Favors Change
WASHINGTON—(AP)—By his statement in Seattle advocating an immediate change in national prohibition, Kenneth Mackintosh added his name to those of six other law enforcement commissioners who specifically took such a stand in the Wickersham report.

Of the 11 members, Newton D. Baker and Monte Lemann called for outright repeal. Four called for revision of the 18th amendment, Miss Ada Comstock, Henry W. Anderson, Frank J. Loesch and Dean Roscoe Pound.

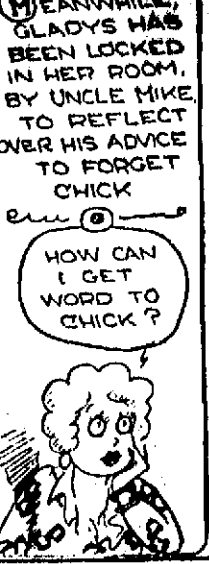

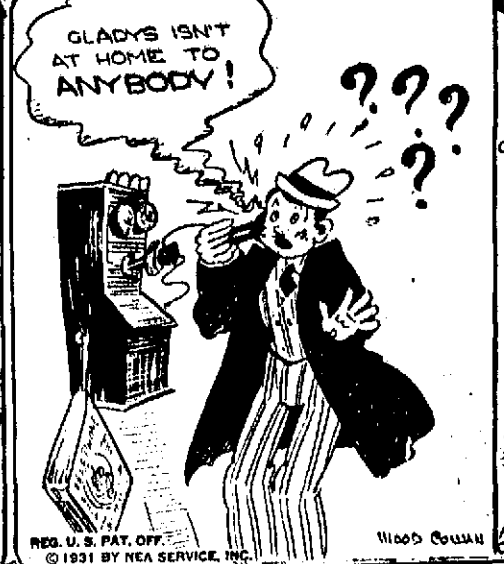

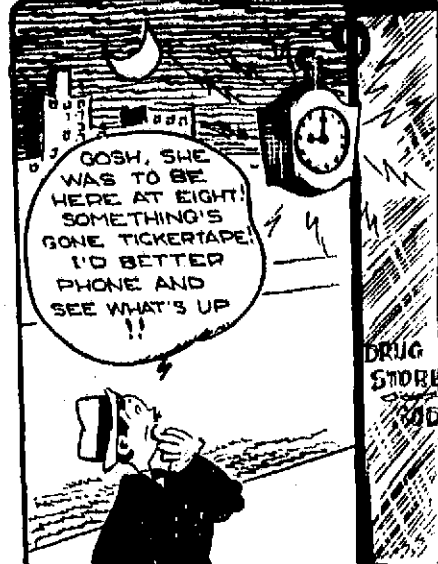

In Seattle, former Judge Mackintosh said Monday he had taken the stand the national dry law could not ORANGEVILLE, Ont.—(U.P.)—Citizens of Mono Township point with pride to their town council who started the New Year by cutting their own salaries.

Then they clipped $25 from the clerk's annual pay; $10 from that of the treasurer, and $1 per meeting from the board of health members. The council is waiting until their next meeting to act on Road Superintendent J. R. Little's suggestion to

FORD SMOOTHNESS

The new Ford has more than twenty ball and roller bearings

EVIDENCE of the high quality built into the new Ford is the extensive use of ball and roller bearings. There are more than twenty in all — an unusually large number. Each bearing is adequate in size and carefully selected for the work it has to do.

At some points in the Ford chassis you will find ball bearings. At others, roller bearings are used regardless of their higher cost. The deciding factor is the performance of the car.

The extensive use of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford insures smoother operation, saves gasoline, increases speed and power, gives quicker pick-up, decreases noise, and gives greater reliability and longer life to vital moving parts.

Other outstanding features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, the extensive use of fine steel forgings, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

"I Took Cardui, It Built Me Up and I Felt Like New," Says This Lady.

Clarksville, Tenn.—"When I was a girl at home, my health wasn't very good," writes Mrs. Della Pentecost, of 945 Charlotte Street, this city. "I suffered quite a bit from pains in my side and back."

"My mother thought I ought to take a tonic, and knowing Cardui was good, I decided on that. Just two bottles cleared up my skin and eased the pain, and I felt much better."

"After I was married, I was weak and run-down, and at times very nervous. I would get tired so easily, and did not feel like doing my work. I took Cardui again, two bottles, and it built me up and I felt like new. I am glad to recommend it as a reliable medicine."

If you are run-down, nervous, or suffer every month, take Cardui, a purely vegetable reconstructive medicine of long established value. Experience of several generations has shown that Cardui helps women to health.
